

Call for Research Articles/Case Studies/Book Reviews for the April 2013- March2014
Journal of Business Thought invites original, exploratory, and empirical articles having strategic policy/practical implications on a broad spectrum of multi-disciplinary topics relating to business and economics along with case studies and recent book reviews for the possible publication in its coming issue.

The journal welcomes the submission of manuscripts that qualify general criteria of significance and academic excellence, and will publish only those articles that are original, unpublished and have not been submitted to any other publication for consideration.

Guidelines to authors and other details are available at <http://www.sggsc.ac.in/journal.jsp>

Rekha Sharma