

The NSS unit visited BalSahyog, an orphanage. It was an interactive session of games and activities with the children. They felt really happy on getting story books, school bags, clothes and their favourite biscuits. A good quantity of donation was collected at the Collection Drive that was organised before the visit. Students donated their toys, shoes and many other useful stuff. With the support and cooperation of the college students, a small meal was also organised for them.

After demonetisation the NSS unit in association with Bhumi organised a Digital Literacy Drive. An enthusiastic team of around 25 members visited Jawala Heri Market, Paschim Vihar and took active participation in guiding people who do not have sufficient knowledge of e-payment system about various digital payment models available and how to use them. Also, a survey was conducted which has led to the conclusion that most of the people favour this move of Modi Government and about 69% of the retailers who were surveyed are providing their customers with the option to pay digitally.

NSS visited a nearby slum to spread awareness about personal hygiene and health. They were informed the importance of cleanliness and were taught how to dispose the waste. The team gave a brief about the Swachh Bharat Abhiyaan to children of slum. They also told them the necessity to use toilet at home to ensure safe sanitation.

NSS also volunteered for teach India program. Around 20 volunteers went to government schools to teach children different subjects.
